

A LIVELY DISCUSSION

At Council Meeting Over Sprinkling Of Gambier St.

And Passage Of A Special Assessing Ordinance

Mausoleum Company Wants Land In Cemetery

Reports Of Chief Of Police And The Mayor

For Month Of February Presented To Council

An ordinance providing for the sprinkling of East Gambier street, the cost of the same to be assessed against property owners, provoked considerable discussion at the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening and was carried to its final passage.

Members of the council seemed divided on whether the ordinance should be passed. Several cited opposition to the measure on the part of East Gambier street property owners, stating that they claimed their sprinkling would be paid for twice. Public Service Director White explained, however, that but one sprinkling a year was given improved streets at the city's expense and Gambier street received that along with the others. Accordingly, if property owners on that thoroughfare desired more sprinklings, it would practically become a private and individual matter.

Mr. Hollingsworth, representing a mausoleum company, placed a proposition before council, whereby that body should give to the company a strip of land in the cemetery, on which the company should erect a mausoleum of granite and marble. Crypts therein should be sold at $150 apiece to individuals and the city should make $75 in such transactions. The matter was referred to the public improvement committee.

An ordinance, providing that any person laying a new sidewalk should put in five inches of concrete foundation and then 1-2 inches of sand before finally laying the sidewalk itself, was introduced as an amendment to an old ordinance passed on Feb. 19, 1906. On motion of its sponsor, Councilman Dubinsky, the ordinance was tabled indefinitely, as Mr. Dubinsky desired to add something to it.

The report of Mayor Perrine for the month of February showed $5 collected in license fees and turned into the city treasury and $14 collected in fines and turned into the county treasury.

Chief of Police Parker reported the following arrests during February:

Intoxication—4.
Cruelty to animals—1.
Defrauding inn-keeper—1.
Using obscene language—1.
Obtaining money under false pretenses—1.
Keeping place for sale of intoxicants—2.
Assault—4.
Non-support—1.
Larceny—1.
Vagrancy—249.
Total—265.

Twenty-three calls were answered and reported back to the office.

An ordinance for final passage and one for second reading, providing for issuance of bonds in anticipation of special assessments for improvement respectively of West Gambier street by paving and Norton street by construction of sanitary sewer, were both passed by council.

A resolution of necessity for paving of West Vine street from Main to Norton was temporarily passed by.

The sewer committee reported favorably on the construction of a sanitary sewer on Jefferson street and the report was filed.

Councilman Sockman stated his attention had been called to a bad bit of sidewalk on the south-west corner of McKenzie and Front streets and moved that the public service director notify the property owners to fix the spot. Motion carried.

Adjourned.

ROLLER

Skater Startles B. & O. Operator At 2 In The Morning

A man, either suffering from a mental derangement or a rabid fresh air fiend, startled the night operator at the B. & O. station at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning by his peculiar actions.

The operator's attention was first directed to the man when he heard a continuous noise on the platform outside of the station. This kept up for about fifteen minutes and the operator looked out to behold a man about thirty years of age busily engaged in roller skating up and down the pavement!

The operator called out to the stranger, who wheeled and made for the extreme end of the pavement as quickly as he could skate. From there, he skated on up West High street and nothing more was seen or heard of him.

The operator vows he was wide awake when the affair happened and is at a complete loss to account for the stranger's actions.

REVISES RURAL SCHOOL CODE

Head of House School Committee Introduces Bill

RADICAL CHANGES SOUGHT

New Boxing Measure Launched in the House Empowers Sheriffs and Mayors to Appoint Local Boxing Commissioners—Effort Made to Strengthen the Movie Censor Act. Doings of the Solons.

Columbus, March 9.—Chairman Plumb of the house schools committee introduced a bill revising the rural school code.

Under the terms of the Plumb measure the present system of electing county school boards would be abolished and these boards would be elected next November at large by the voters. The abolished county examiner boards are restored; the probable judge and county superintendent are to appoint two examiners. There is return to the old plan of distributing state school funds on the basis of the enumeration of youth of school age. The minimum supervisory district is made one of forty teachers instead of twenty. This change is advocated by supporters of the present code, as a means of reducing the number of district supervisors. The bill also limits the number of district supervisors to four in the county. Village districts, having a first or second grade high school, may exempt themselves from county supervision and may appoint a superintendent, who is to give one-fifth of his time to supervision.

A school bill by Garver of Holmes reduces the minimum school year in rural districts from 32 to 28 weeks and permits pupils to be excused from attending more than 20 weeks. Attack on the state boxing commission bill, which is on the house calendar, was made by the introduction by Thompson of Franklin of a bill empowering sheriffs and mayors, on application by an athletic club or public gymnasium, to appoint two local boxing commissioners, empowered to grant or refuse permits for boxing exhibitions.

To punish the film exchange or agency and not merely the exhibitor, as the present law does, when the orders of the state board of censors of moving pictures are not complied with, is the object of the Besaw bill, introduced in the house.

A bill introduced by Mr. Benedict requires jury commissioners to reserve for the jury wheel the names of American born voters on the polling books and such foreign born voters as they think qualified for jury service.

The house formally adopted the senate joint resolution inviting John Hays Hammond and Rev. Dr. John Wesley Hill to address the legislature tonight on behalf of international peace. They are on a tour, addressing legislatures and other audiences in all parts of the country.

M'ADOO ON PURPOSE OF SHIP PURCHASE BILL

Secretary Denies Charge Made By Senator Lodge.

Washington, March 9.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo issued a statement denying unequivocally the charge made by Senator Lodge that the administration originally had intended to purchase interned German ships should the law purchase bill have become a law. Referring to the Lodge statement, Mr. McAdoo said: "The shipping bill never did have in view the purchase of the interned German ships or any specific ships."

The statement then launched off into a rather sharply worded attack on Senators Lodge and Root for their alleged inconsistency in voting against the ship bill out of fear that the president would purchase belligerent ships, whereas, he points out, they had voted for the amendment to the ship registry laws permitting the purchase of belligerent ships by American ship owners. Mr. McAdoo asserts that the only reason why the president refused to accept an amendment of the ship bill prohibiting the purchase of interned ships was that such a provision would have meant "the surrender of a vital American right."

"The purpose of the bill," says the statement, "was to give the government authority to buy or build any kind of suitable ships for the purposes of American trade and commerce. Had the bill passed, American shipyards would have received orders promptly for cargo ships aggregating 300,000 to 400,000 tons dead weight, thereby giving employment to labor, stimulating manufacturing industries and providing vessels for our foreign trade."

CREAMER WINS IN THE SENATE

Appointment to Administration Board Confirmed.

VOTE SHOWS A PARTY LINE-UP

Bills Forbidding the Shooting of Quail and the Carolina or Turtle Dove For Five Years Pass the House—Stockholders' Proxy Measure Also Put Through—Agricultural Bill Up For Passage Next Week.

Columbus, March 10.—Senator Hopple of Cleveland, minority leader, opposed the confirmation by the senate of David Staley Creamer of Belmont county, whose appointment on the administration board was made several weeks ago by Governor Willis. Hopple spoke in favor of adopting the minority report of the finance committee, which had been considering Creamer's appointment. The minority report advised against the confirmation of Creamer on the ground that he is not a Democrat, because he worked openly for the election of Governor Willis.

Majority Leader Howard contended that the former state treasurer was a loyal Democrat, even though he had bolted Governor Cox. He contended that Creamer had remained loyal to the remainder of the Democratic ticket.

After further debate, the minority report was rejected on a strict party vote by 19 against its adoption to 13 for adoption. The majority report was then adopted and Creamer was confirmed.

Powers of the interstate commerce commission to suspend railroad freight rates during the hearing of protests filed against them by shippers and placing the burden of proof for the change upon the railroad are conferred upon the state public utilities commission by the Winans bill, which was passed by the senate. It carries an emergency clause to make it effective at once. The bill now goes to the house.

After defeating the Criswell bill making it a felony to destroy ginseng or golden seal beds last week, the senate reconsidered its action and passed the measure by a vote of 22 to 7. It already had passed the house.

Members of the house whistled "bob white" when Speaker Conover announced the passage of the Bragg bill forbidding the shooting of quail for five years, or until 1920. The vote, 87 to 17, ended a prolonged contest in the house between the farmers and the state game commission on one side and the hunters on the other. Quail have been protected for the last three years.

While the house was about it, it included in the five year protection, at the instance of Mr. Stokes of Montgomery, the Carolina dove or turtle dove.

May Engage In Fox Hunts.

The hunters were given the consolation of permission to engage in fox hunts, by the passage of the Williams bill repealing the fox protection law. But the Oberlin bill, forbidding a land owner to consent to trot line fishing in abutting water, was defeated.

The house passed the Collins senate bill, making stockholders' proxies in the election of directors of a corporation good for only eleven months. An amendment by Kramer of Richmond makes the bill and the present law for cumulative voting apply to the election of bank directors.

Bills to establish municipal courts in Lima and Hamilton, and the Barnes bill, permitting a jail or workhouse sentence instead of a penitentiary sentence for attempt to have illicit relations under the age of consent, were passed.

In accord with the agricultural decentralizing program, the Bryson bill, introduced in the house, empowers the state agricultural experiment station at Wooster to establish a branch station at Ohio State university. The dean of the college of agriculture is made an associate director of the Wooster station.

Chairman Smith of the house agricultural committee reported the bill abolishing the state agricultural commission. It was set for passage March 17. The committee retained the provision of the original bill for a board of agriculture of nine members, with control centered in the secretary, whom the board is to appoint and who is to name the heads of all the subordinate bureaus.

NON-MOHAMMEDANS IN PERIL

Forcing of Dardanelles Would Mean Carnage in the Holy Land.

New York, March 10.—Miss Alice Whittier Jones of Philadelphia, head of the Society of Friends missionary school for girls in Jerusalem, who arrived on the Carpathia from the Mediterranean, said the forcing of the Dardanelles would mean the end of Turkish rule in the Holy Land as well as Europe. "The Turks," Miss Jones said, "are aware of this, and they are ready to pillage and massacre when the end comes. They are forcing Jews and other non-Mohammedans into the Turkish army, and those unfit for military service are put to work."

To Cure Catarrh Purify the Blood

Reason it Out, Where Does it Start the Mucus From?

Innumerable catarrh sufferers have cured themselves by purifying their blood with S. S. S. Catarrh often invades the entire system before it chokes the nasal passages. It becomes so chronic and extensive that the stomach, liver, kidneys, bronchial tubes and most of the glands are involved without such serious conditions being realized. Catarrh may be the result of some serious blood trouble of former years, and this is only one of the many peculiar effects of impure blood. Now S. S. S. in its influence upon the mucous surfaces, causes those catarrhal secretions to be changed or converted into a substance easily, quickly, and naturally expelled from the body. It so changes this mucus that it is not the rosy, clogging stuff that plugs the nose, chokes the throat, causes severe bowel trouble, upsets the stomach and contaminates the food just entering the blood. It is often difficult to convince catarrh sufferers that chronic cough, chest pains, gagging, fetid breath and other symptoms are only the local evidence of deep seated trouble. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today and try it. You will get good results, real benefit and soon be aware of a gradual cleaning up and a check to the progress and dangers of catarrh. Avoid substitutes. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 61 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. They conduct a medical department for free advice that is worth while consulting.
